bat for her kids. I talked about the NEWS and about Phil and Rosemary and how difficult they can be to work for on occasion. John will make some prints of the CHS+M parade group in front of Crocker's. He will do so at the High School. John spoke of several fights he has been involved in - none in the past several years, but quite a few before that. One, a couple of years ago, he and another kid (whose name I can not recall) had at it in the lot at Ames Plaza. A large crowd gathered around and Sergeant Marza investigated. No fight was clearly won by John who, apparently, "beat the daylight" out of his opponent. Somehow, we got on the topic of accidents and John told me of the particularly messy accidents that have taken place on occasion at Vo-Tech. Perfectly gruesome: mashed fingers, burns, cuts and so on. The evening was very pleasant indeed. Easy conversation: John in the chair by the radiator by the window and me at my Oswego table. At 10:45 PM, John took his leave and I went out with him and he drove me to the NEWS where I picked up two copies of this week's NEWS for myself and two copies for him and his family.

Tommy was supposed to stop by here on his way home from his photography class. He never did. I must tell him that Jean saw him taking pictures up by Crystal Lake and thought he was a surreyer.
